Camino Gunner World Champ

Carsten, Sr., Cops
16-Yard Event In Stockton Shoot

Ernest Carsten, Sr., of Camino, is the world's trapshooting champion at sixteen yards.

The Camino man, whose son, Ernest, Jr., is also winning honors in his class, claimed the international championship at Stockton on Friday in the face of plenty of competition.

At the close of the regular 200-target run, Carsten had broken 199 birds and the only "fly in the ointment" was G. Iseng of Hornitos, who was tied with Carsten for top honors.

Judges ordered a 25-target shoot-off and after the two had each broken 25 birds in a row, it was necessary to order up a second 25-target shoot-off.

This thing might have gone on and on, for Carsten broke his second 25 with a perfect record, but the pressure was too much for Iseng, who lost a world's championship when he missed his 24th bird in the second shoot-off.

DeMolay Seat Officers

Installation Rite
Is Conducted By Master Councilor

Jack Rupley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Rupley, is the new Master Councilor of El Dorado Chapter, Order of De Molay.

Installation of officers was held Friday night at a meeting of the chapter at the Masonic hall, the new officers being seated by State Master Councilor Edward Sayers, and staff.

Assisting in the installation were Leonard Cain of Lodi, as senior councilor; Charles Moore of Lodi, as junior councilor; Thomas Lee of Roseville, as chaplain; and Harold Duden of Placerville, as marshal.

At the conclusion of the installation, M. T. Kelly, of the chapter advisory committee, presented a Past Master Councilor's pin to Lester Frost, who served the term just closed.

In addition to the new Master Councilor, officers of the chapter are, Arthur Hackwood, senior councilor; Robert Rhodes, junior councilor; Kenneth Ward, senior deacon; Elwyn Scheiber, junior deacon; Edward Evans, senior steward; Howard Chalk, junior steward; Thomas Caswell, standard bearer; Baxter Eskew, marshal; George Smith, chaplain; Robert Veerkamp, sentinel; and the following preceptors:

Kenneth Heffren, Jack Rhodes, Jr., Bill Sayers, Albert Frey, Donald Emerson, Eugene Drury and Chester Carsten.

BANDITS STRIP 36 GUESTS IN SUISUN HOTEL

SUISUN (UP)—Police today were seeking five armed bandits, one of whom boasted that he was "wanted," who entered the Suisun hotel, stripped the clothing from six women guests and forced them to lay face downward on the floor, and then held up approximately 30 men who were in the hotel or entered during the robbery.

The bandits escaped with approximately $1,000 taken from the hotel cash register and from the pockets of the guests.

The women were bound with adhesive tape but were not molested further, according to Police Chief A. C. Tillman.

He said that after the women were bound the bandits waited for the male guests to arrive and overpowered them one by one, stripping them of their clothes and forcing them to lie down in rooms on the second floor of the hotel.

The clothes of all were flung together in a pile and police, who were aroused when a shout for help broke a window and hurriedly for help, said that the scene was one of wildest confusion when they arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Camille Coquoz and small daughter were here for a week-end visit with the former's mother, Mrs. Leonice Coquoz. They reside at Yuba City.

Dr. L. J. Anderson, who is a candidate at the coming department convention, for election as State Commander of the American Legion. Former secretary of the El Dorado County Chamber of Commerce, a past commander of his post, his district and his area and a well-known civic worker, Dr. Anderson is well qualified to lead the American Legion of California.

ANDERSON GETS ENDORSEMENT

El Dorado County
Man Boosted As Legion Chief

Dr. L. J. Anderson of Placerville, was endorsed Saturday by the American Legion of the Sixth District as their candidate for election as state commander of the American Legion, at the coming state convention.

Following endorsement of Anderson by the district organization, a definite campaign for the office is being mapped in his behalf by his friends of El Dorado Post No. 119.

Dr. Anderson was one of the founders of El Dorado Post No. 119, and served as its first adjutant, becoming commander of the Post in 1924. He has served continuously as a member of the post's service committee.

He was Sixth District Commander in 1933 and 1934 and was department vice-commander from the First Area in 1935 and 1936 and his record in behalf of the area in this term won him an airplane trip to the national convention at Indianapolis.

Born in 1889, Anderson was graduated at the University of California in 1912. He was married in 1914 and was graduated in 1915 from the San Francisco veterinary college. He volunteered for military service in 1917, was commissioned a second lieutenant and served with the American Expeditionary Forces overseas.

335 DEAD, RAIN EASES HEAT WAVE

By UNITED PRESS

Scattered showers brought slight relief today for the "oven area" of America where more than 335 persons have died since July 7 of heat prostration, drowning, lightning and heart disease caused by excessive temperatures.

Temperatures above 90 were forecast for most of the region between the Rockies and the Atlantic. Forecasters said a mass of cool air was moving slowly from the west, but that it would bring little relief.

Highest temperature yesterday was 104 in Yuma, Arizona. Some typical temperatures: Green Bay, Wisconsin, 98; Philadelphia, 92; Washington, 94; Cleveland, 88; Detroit, 92; Chicago, 95; Kansas City, 83; Boston, 80; New York, 92.

Dr. Black Seriously Ill At Hospital

Lieutenant Howard J. Black, camp physician at Mosquito CCC camp, who has been a patient for observation at Letterman hospital, is reported as resting easily, according to word received Monday by friends from Mrs. Black, who is at the bedside. Dr. Black's affliction is understood to have been diagnosed and his condition is reported as serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bonetti were in town Monday from the French Creek section.

The Colfax Lions fought their way into the championship play-off in the Placer-Nevada League, by scoring four runs in the first inning, a lead they never relinquished, to defeat the Bartlets, in the final game of the regular league schedule by a 6-4 score, at Colfax, Sunday.

Dummy Land, who put the Lions back in their cages when hurling against them some weeks ago, started the game for the locals, but did not survive the first stanza. Land was touched for five hits, one a home run by Hawk, and three bleeder type bingles.

All the trouble started after two were down, when Smith lined a single into right. Hawk, who has been hitting home runs regularly the past few weeks, lined one over Reeder's head in centerfield, good for four bases, to score Smith ahead of him. Wilds then dropped one over short for a single. Atwell hit a fly into left field, for what should have been the final out of the inning, and Neeley, playing left at that time, misjudged the ball, the pellet falling in back of him. Wilds scored and Atwell took second. Simmons then singled to score Atwell with the fourth Colfax tally of the inning. After Simmons' hit, Land was removed in favor of Reggie Jackson, who hurled masterful ball the remainder of the game. (Turn to Page 4)

Swiss-American Society Seeks Data On Life Of Pioneer

A Sacramento paper reports that:

Information about the life of Samuel Kyburz, Swiss-born overseer of Captain John Sutter's properties here and hotel owner in the days of '49, is being sought by the Swiss-American Historical Society of Chicago for use in the organization's second volume of "Prominent Americans of Swiss Origin."

A request for details has been received by Harry C. Peterson, curator of Sutter's fort, from Capt. C. Theo. Schweizer, a director of the society, who lives in Oakland.

Peterson, preparing to answer the request, said almost the only information about Kyburz had been given him by Mrs. Louise C. V. Anderson of Folsom, who knew the Kyburz family many years ago.

Kyburz was born in Switzerland in 1810 and arrived in the United States about 1845. He heard that his countryman had founded a community in California, so bought horses and wagons with which to make the trip west.

When he arrived, Sutter was so glad to see someone from the land of his birth, that he built a two-room addition to the fort where Mr. and Mrs. Kyburz lived. These rooms now are used by Peterson as his office.

Mrs. Kyburz was the first white lady to live at the fort and the men of the community outdid each other to bring gifts that would make her home more liveable.

One of the Kyburz' six children was born in the fort, February 9, 1848. He was named John Augustus for Captain Sutter, but lived only until December 23, 1848.

Mrs. Anderson said Mrs. Kyburz had told her of the illness and death of the little boy.

"His cradle, made of rough lumber, stood against the north wall of the room, near the fireplace," Mrs. Anderson repeated.

It is said Kyburz was the man who suggested that the mill where Mar-

Miss Evelyn Winifred Berriman, daughter of Ranger and Mrs. R. C. M. Berriman of Georgetown, who left Monday for the bay district to take part in a series of special events arranged for the young women who this year are candidates for the honor of being California's Out-Door High School Girl for 1937. MISS BERRIMAN LEAVES FOR RODEO AT SALINAS

Series Of Special Events Outlined
For Girls Entered In Annual
California Out-Door Girl Contest

Evelyn Winifred Berriman, daughter of Ranger and Mrs. R. C. M. Berriman of Georgetown, left home Monday for the annual rodeo at Salinas, where she will represent El Dorado County in the contest to name California's Out-Door High School Girl for 1937.

Selected as the county's entry in the contest at the annual County May Day picnic, Miss Berriman will share with entries from 22 other California counties in a brilliant round of special events during the week.

She was accompanied on the trip by her mother.

The winner of the contest will be designated on the opening day of the rodeo, July 15. She and her mother or other chaperone will be guests of the rodeo management during the show and will receive a trip to Mexico.

Miss Berriman and her mother will go by boat tonight from Sacramento to San Francisco where, on Tuesday noon Miss Berriman will be guest of the San Francisco Rotary Club at their luncheon at Bal Tabarin.

Miss Berriman will be heard on the radio Tuesday afternoon on the "Women's Magazine of the Air" program on station KPO from 2:45 o'clock until 3 o'clock.

Miss Berriman and others entered in the contests will be guests of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce on a sight-seeing tour later in the afternoon. This will be followed by a tea at the Emporium and by a theater party at Loew's Warfield.

At Salinas on Wednesday the girls will be judged for horsemanship at the rodeo grounds. This will be followed by a written examination at Salinas Junior College to determine their scholastic qualification and Thursday morning at a Salinas theater they will be judged on personality and healthful, outdoor appearance.

HOPE FOR AMELIA RESTS WITH NAVY PLANES

HONOLULU (UP)—Virtually all hope of finding Amelia Earhart and Frederick J. Noonan, her navigator, lost in the Pacific since July 2, today rested with the navy fliers and their planes aboard the giant carrier Lexington.

Honolulu (UP)—The impending arrival of the Lexington caused the withdrawal of the U. S. S. Colorado which was ordered to proceed north, refuel three destroyers accompanying the Lexington and then to go to San Francisco by way of Honolulu.

Henry Bacchi was a Placerville visitor Monday morning.

Pear Outlook Brighter

Heavy Dropping In Early Crop Noted
In River District

SAN FRANCISCO—California's first carload of golden Bartlett pears will reach eastern markets this week. Hopes of Pacific Coast pear growers for a profitable season are higher than they have been for a decade, says John D. Wheeler, chairman of the California Division of the Pacific Coast Canning Pear Stabilization Committee.

On July 8th a marketing order signed by A. A. Brock, state director of agriculture, became effective and provided for a $75,000 advertising fund for "fresh Bartletts." No longer—under established grade and size limitations—will mature or imperfect fruit be permitted to destroy consumer demand for the juicy, luscious pear that is one of nature's finest contributions to a healthful "hot weather" diet. The pear growers have agreed to place upon the market the finest grade of selected fruit.

With the $75,000 fund, provided for by a three cent per box assessment, the growers will conduct an intensive newspaper and radio advertising campaign designed to make consumers Bartlett pear conscious. Keen interest among the trade, in this campaign, is reported and participation of food chains operating 37,000 retail stores is already promised. In a bulletin issued last week to these stores, John A. Logan, executive vice-president of the National Association of Food Chains, said:

"Pacific Coast pears will reach eastern markets in volume about July 25. An extra measure of chain food store support, at just this time, will be of tremendous value to pear growers."

Early estimates have been somewhat (Turn to Page 3)

3 Commissioners
Named Monday By Supervisors

In response to a petition signed by 55 residents of Georgetown and vicinity, the Board of Supervisors at a meeting at the courthouse on Monday morning took action to clear the way for an election to determine whether such a district shall be established.

Granting the petition, the board named as commissioners for the district George French, George Morgan and Allan Hughes.

It is understood that within the next few weeks an election will be held to establish the district so that the expenses of operation may be provided for in the budget for the ensuing fiscal year.

The proposed fire prevention district would include Georgetown and its immediate environs, perhaps within a radius of a mile, it was said.

RUSSIANS OVER ARCTIC ON S. F. HOP

MOSCOW (UP)—Three Russian air heroes sped out over the Arctic toward Franz Josef land and the North Pole today, enroute to the United States on a flight in which they hope to break the world distance record of 5,657 miles. At 2:17 p. m. Moscow time (7 a. m. EDT) they were in position 77 latitude 51 longitude, which placed them about 200 miles northwest of Nova Zembla. Their destination is San Francisco or Los Angeles.

When reported, the fliers were approximately 1,500 miles out of Moscow, with about 4,100 miles to go.

Georgetown Office Has 1,000 Patrons

Mrs. Alice Flynn, Georgetown postmistress, was a Placerville visitor on Monday morning. She reports that Georgetown is a hive of industry and that the office over which she presides now serves an approximate 1,000 patrons residing in Georgetown and vicinity.

The Time To Strike?

Heffman

THE Book Mark

By JANE VOILES

The Reeves of Berkeley, Alice Means Reeve and Lloyd Eric Reeve, write for the magazines. When we say "write," we mean that they make their livelihood that way. They are young and vital and get a lot of fun out of their work. Readers of Good Housekeeping magazines are familiar with the stories of Alice Means Reeve. She publishes in other American magazines and English ones as well. Mrs. Reeve is quite as lovely as any of her heroines with a delicate cameo-like beauty. Lloyd Eric Reeve is a regular fellow who is always ready to help and encourage aspiring writers. He knows a lot about magazines as he has published in forty different ones. The "pulp" he told us, are the magazines published on rough paper and there are about six times as many pulps as there are "slicks" (smooth paper magazines). The pulps offer a big market to the writer and, on an average, they pay well. The reading level in the United States is increasing. The pulps are so numerous because they are almost always the first magazines to attract general readers.

Don't think for a minute that there are no good stories in the pulps. Their standards are always improving. "There was a time," Mr. Reeve said, "when the formula for a 'Western' was—ride, ride; shoot, shoot, marry the girl"—but today, fine period stories as well as character stories appear in the pulps.

A recent book about the pulps leads one to believe that pulp writing is such a strain on the nerves that pulp writers become neurotics, end in suicides or seclude themselves from the world and grow roses, all of which would be very lamentable indeed. Mr. Reeve points out, however, that for serious writers, the pulps are stepping stones. They furnish good training and supply the experience necessary to write for the higher grade magazines.

"Theodore Dreiser was editor of Top Notch," Mr. Reeve declared, "Sinclair Lewis edited Adventure magazine and T. S. Stripling, a Pulitzer prize winner, wrote for the pulps for years."

Finally, you cannot write for the pulps with your tongue in your cheek. To succeed, you must be sincere.

The original manuscript of Rossetti's sonnets which was buried in his wife's coffin, was on exhibit last month in New York. In his latest book "The Quick and the Dead," the English writer Osbert Sitwell gives another version of this strange incident. Mr. Sitwell retells the dramatic love story of Elizabeth Siddal and the poet Rossetti. At her death, probably caused by suicide, Rossetti overcame with remorse, placed in her coffin between her hair and her cheek the green bound manuscript book. Nine years later, the grave was opened, the book was removed with some of Elizabeth

Siddal's auburn hair entwining its mildewed binding. After the stained and discolored pages had been chemically treated, Rossetti transcribed the poems and they were printed under the title "The House of Life."

"After this," Mr. Sitwell asserts, "Rossetti never painted another good picture nor wrote a good poem. For the rest of his life he was the victim of chloral."

If you have been waiting for a good vacation book with plenty of matter into which to get your reading teeth, you will not have to wait much longer. Kenneth Roberts' "Northwest Passage," a novel about the Colonial Indian fighter Major Roger is your meat. If you are still interested in the English royal family, you will want to read Hector Bolitho's "King George VI." It can scarcely be as spectacular as his "Edward VIII" but it tells much about a monarch whom little is known. There is a new mystery out this week—"The Case of the Crawling Cockroach" (nice title) by Harlan Reed, and a horror story that promises to chill the spine and goose (why shouldn't we con a verb) the flesh "Fingers of Fear" by J. U. Nicholas. It is compared to "Dracula" which may mean nothing at all as most horror stories published today are compared to "Dracula" or to "Frankenstein."

Among the new books we note a new one on first aid, "Every Day First Aid"—what to do in case of accidents, by Walter F. Cobb. A writer about whom we know nothing but who piques our curiosity is Montague Summers. He believes in the reality of witchcraft and has written a book about it—"A Popular History of Witchcraft." For those interested in radio work, there is a new book, Waldo Abbot's "Handbook of Broadcasting." Collectors of cook books will want to read a Swedish cook book now that the "Bit of Sweden" restaurants have become so popular—"The Princesses Cook Book" by Jenny Akerstrom. And now we will all be able to take that sea voyage because there is a "Handbook of Seasickness," just out. It took two men to write it, Richard Collins and Francis Kanay.

William Rose Benet, an editor and man of letters from New York, is at Mills College this summer. He tells his students that the real ignoramus is the person who never troubles to find out, consequently he never learns.

Personals

A minor collision on Main Street Saturday evening damaged the car of Alvin Edwards. Edith Allen is reported to have been the driver of the other car.

Fred Marker, 48, of Coloma, sentenced last week to 12½ days in jail or to pay a fine of $25 following conviction for brandishing a gun, gained release after serving two days of the term and paying a fine in the amount of $21.

County Recorder Charles Marsh returned to his desk Monday morning after having spent a couple of days at Sacramento attending to business connected with his office.

Superior Judge George H. Thompson and Arthur J. Koletzke, county clerk, were visitors Monday at Yuba City.

Henry Marks returned over the weekend from a four-week stay at Boyes Springs and reports he enjoyed a rest and vacation.

George Green of The Sportsman's Shop, started his vacation Monday morning.

Moose Association To Meet July 22

SACRAMENTO—The fourth annual convention of the California Moose Association, Loyal Order of Moose, will be held here July 22 to 25.

Three thousand members, with their wives and friends, are expected to participate in what Oliver Goldblatt, general chairman, promises will be an "excellent" four-day program.

The women's chapters will meet simultaneously. Mrs. Mildred Hill heads the committees arranging their activities.

POOL "DRY"

AMARILLO, Tex. (UP)—The municipal swimming pool at Thompson park will be figuratively "dry" this summer. The city council ordered that pool officials prohibit anyone from bringing intoxicants with them.

reduced because of heavy dropping in a number of districts. In the Sacramento and Marysville districts, the crop is estimated at from 10 per cent to 15 per cent less than last year; Placer County, 40 per cent to 50 per cent less; the Suisun, 40 per cent less. In the principal late districts, Lake, Mendocino, and El Dorado Counties, the prospects are for a crop equal to or in excess of last year.

The prospects for a favorable price on canning pears have been greatly improved by the sales campaign on canned pears which was carried on in April and May—and reduced stocks in canners' hands to a low point. The average sales increase of all the food chains in this campaign was 256 per cent.

One eastern food chain made this report:

"One of our more optimistic men suggested that if the folks, here, ever tasted a juicy California Bartlett, they would enjoy pears more. On this suggestion, we built our campaign. As a result—we increased our pear sales by 1433 per cent."

STOCKMEN MEET THIS WEEK-END AT OAKLAND

Livestock men from California, Nevada, Utah and Arizona are meeting in Oakland Friday and Saturday of this week at the annual regional conference of the directors and secretary-treasurers of the state-wide production credit associations in these states.

Although the California Livestock Production Credit Association has only been operating a short time, it extended short term credit during the past seven months of over $1,153,000, according to the report made by Stirling Peart, secretary-treasurer of the organization.

Representatives of the California Livestock Production Credit Association attending the meeting include William A. Freeman, president, Santa Paula; Fred A. Ellenwood, Red Bluff; S. P. Arbios, Stockton; Hubbard Russell, Los Angeles; A. T. Spencer, Gerber; and Stirling B. Peart, secretary-treasurer, Oakland.

Just as the savory aroma of appetizing food is half the pleasure of eating, so the fragrance of fine tobaccos is half the pleasure of smoking.

That's the reason we go half way around the world for the costly aromatic Turkish tobaccos that help give Chesterfields their more pleasing aroma.

Blended with mild sun-ripened home-grown tobaccos they make Chesterfields milder and better-tasting

FIRE DAMAGE AT GEORGETOWN IS SLIGHT

Prompt discovery of a fire which endangered the Masonic hall at Georgetown on Friday evening resulted in the blaze being extinguished without serious damage.

This is according to reports received from Georgetown on Monday morning. The blaze, it was reported, started in a cupboard near the stove on the lower floor. Mountain Fern Chapter, O. E. S., was meeting on the second floor when the fire was discovered by members, who smelled smoke which they traced to its source.

The Georgetown Volunteer Firemen were quick to answer the alarm and, happily, damage was only nominal.

Fire Burns Bridge Near Latrobe

Supervisor Cyril Heusner believes that when you own half of anything, you've got to look out for the welfare of the other half, too, even if you don't own it.

Accordingly the supervisor went to Latrobe Monday afternoon to meet the supervisors from the adjoining districts in Amador County, on the matter of the bridge across the Cosumnes River at that point.

"Thirty or forty feet of the bridge, on the Amador side, burned away Sunday night; probably as a result of a fire started by a hobo," Heusner reported.

"Well," someone asked, "if it's on the Amador side, why worry?"

"Cy" didn't think that would be the right attitude.

Geoble Rites Held On Monday

Funeral services for Charles W. Geoble, former El Dorado County rancher, who died Friday at San Francisco, were held Monday morning at Sacramento.

Following the services the body was brought to Placerville for interment at Union cemetery, with graveside rites under auspices of Placerville Lodge No. 70, K. of P., of which Mr. Geoble was a member.

Mr. Geoble, aged 85, passed on following a stroke of apoplexy.

GRANDSTAND Gossip

By Bob Vivian

The Colfax Lions will be the fourth team in the series to decide the league championship. The Lions assured themselves of the spot by defeating the Bartletts Sunday, but even had the score been reversed the Colfax nine would have been "in" as both Roseville and Loomis lost.

Placerville, the first team to clinch a place in the play-off, has failed to win a game since they fought their way to the top more than a month ago. The locals will need to snap out of their slump to defeat either Folsom or Auburn one of which will be their opponents in the first play-off contest, probably next Sunday.

It was suggested by "Scoop" Thurman, after Sunday's game that the Barts and Lions meet to decide which team is third and which is fourth. The suggestion did not click with the local management and players, and justly so. Playing a game which is not necessary, would just prolong the season that much longer, and after four months or more, both fans and players lose interest in the game.

With Folsom and Auburn tied for first, and Placerville and Colfax for second, a game behind, it shows the four clubs evenly matched, so it doesn't matter much who plays who in the first game. The play-off should begin next Sunday, with the winners meeting the following week for the championship, in a one game, not a three game series.

What Colfax was going to do to Reggie Jackson if they ever faced him, was the comment of Colfax fans and players. The Lions were supposed to be murderous against fast pitching. Two runs and five hits was the best the Lions could do off the young southpaw, who hurled the best game he has for some time. Jackson fanned six of the Lions and issued free transportation to two.

Bill Kelly, doing the chucking for the Colfax nine was hit hard in some spots. His fielding support was the main factor in his victory over the locals. Kelly was touched for eleven bingles, including three two-base swats, walked two, and sent seven down swinging.

"Ginger" Smith's two great catches in leftfield, robbed the Bartletts out of at least four runs. Both catches were made with two men on the sacks, and had either ball dropped fair both would have scored with ease.

Henry Hawk, the Lions first baseman, hit his third home run in the past three weeks, a long drive over Reeder's head in centerfield. Hawk also collected two singles to lead both teams in hitting, he batted in three runs, and scored one.

Hawk, who has taken Freeman's place on the initial sack is going to be a big help to the Lions in the play-off. Incidentally it was Hawk who poled a home run in the ninth inning of the Colfax-Roseville game, with Roseville leading 7-5. There were two on at the time and the three runs gave Colfax the game.

Eddie Reeder in making an attempt to catch Hawk's drive in the first inning, fell over a small sized boulder in center, and limped around the field throughout the contest.

Mike Backerich still continues his heavy hitting, Mike collected a single and double in four tries. His two base hit was a long drive through the fence in left field, ground rules holding him to two bases.

Ernie Scheiber looked good on catching foul flies Sunday. Ernie snagged a couple, crashing into the screen to take one of them. Scheiber, usually a good hitter, failed to connect for a safe blow, though he was robbed of one by Smith.

The Bartletts had eleven men left on bases as compared to eight by the Lions. The difference was the margin between defeat and victory.

Seven extra base hits were marked up in Sunday's game. Backerich, Visintainer and Prince getting doubles for the Bartletts, and Hawk and Perry, home runs; and Atwell two doubles for the Lions.

Colfax, excepting Roseville, Folsom, Auburn, Lincoln, Loomis, Placerville and Wheatland, has the best diamond in the Placer-Nevada League. Outside of boulders, pine trees and ditches it's in tip-top shape.

After Colfax had tallied four times fracas, but to no avail as the Bartletts failed to overcome the Colfax lead.

Placerville missed an opportunity to garner a couple of tallies in the opening frame, when Visintainer and Reeder singled. Visintainer was forced at second by Neil, and Backerich and Roderick went out to end the threat.

The Barts had five men left on bases during the first three innings and scored three times in the fourth, on three hits and a walk. Clark led off with a single and was followed by Warren, who relieved Neeley in the second, Warren waited Kelly out for a free trip to first, putting Clark on second from where he stole third. Scheiber then lined a long drive into left field, which looked at least like a two base hit, but Smith, fleet footed leftfielder of the Lions, went far to his left to make a sensational catch of the drive. Warren had rounded second when the ball was caught but made it back to first in time. Clark scored after the catch to give the locals their first tally.

Visintainer drove a double into right to score the local manager, and Prince, batting for Neil, drove one into centerfield, good for two bases to score Mike. Reeder, hitting safely his first two trips, failed to connect and ended the inning fanning, leaving the Bartletts one short of a tie.

Cliff Perry, in the Lions half of the fourth, caught hold of one of Jackson's fast pitches and drove it over Reeder's head in center, for the second Colfax home run of the game.

Placerville again came within one of tying the score in the fifth when a double by Backerich on a hard hit ball into left, and a single by Warren sent the local first basemen across the platter.

The final scoring of the game came in the Colfax half of the seventh, when hits by Smith and Hawk, and a wild pitch by Jackson, scored Smith.

"Ginger" Smith, Lion leftfielder, saved the game for Colfax in the seventh when he made his second sensational catch of the game, taking Warren's drive that was labeled three bases, after a long run to his left. Backerich was on third and Clark on second at the time. Had Smith failed to catch the ball it would have put the Bartletts in the lead and the story might not have been—"We lose."

In the first, Scoop was going around with a mile-wide smile, but around the sixth inning with the score standing 5-4, Scoop had lost that smile and was going around with a worried look.

Dummy Land had some tough breaks in the first inning. He had two out and no one on base when Smith and Hawk hit. Land would have got by with but two runs against him had not Neeley misjudged Atwell's fly in left.

"Dummy" will be charged with the defeat, although his record in the official book should not change. Land was charged by Carolyn Gallagher with the defeat in the Folsom-Bart game. Land pitched to, but two batters in the ninth inning with Folsom leading 8-2 in this game.

Both teams played good ball during the game, and from the fourth on, with the score close and the teams threatening to score at any time, kept the crowd on edge. The Barts in an un-official score were charged with three errors and the Lions one.

Wentworth, Hull Bag "The Limit"

"Friends" of Guy Wentworth and Frank Hull (did you notice that we put quotation marks around the word "friends"?) have on display at Lindberg's Coffee Club a catch of fish made by the two which they (the "friends") state is "the limit."

Wentworth and Hull went fishing Sunday and, so we are advised by the "friends," what is on display is "the limit" they returned with.

Anyway, for a day's fishing, that's "the limit."

SERA Camp Near Lumberyard

100 Men Will Be Enrolled, Working In Rust Control

A 100-man SERA summer camp is being installed at the Bear River reservoir in the Lumberyard district of Eldorado Forest, it was announced on Monday morning.

Joseph Bundschuh has been named superintendent of the camp.

The work of the Bear River camp will be blister rust control and in this department the camp will be under the supervision of Douglas R. Miller, of the Bureau of Entomology, who also is supervising three other camps, set up under the bureau's supervision, and carrying on blister rust control work in various sections of the forest.

Enrollment in the Bear River camp is open to men able to do the work, who are now listed with the SERA.

The National Dairy Show will be held at Columbus, Ohio, October 9-16.

2 MORE CHECK DAMS TO BE BUILT

Continuing its program of building check dams on some of the lakes in the higher country, Eldorado Forest will build dams in the near future on Island and Clyde lakes.

This is according to Forest Supervisor Edwin F. Smith, who said Monday that the date for the start of actual work has not been set.

The check dams, several of which have been installed on various lakes, serve to retard the water run-off and thus aid in conserving fish life in the areas in which they are installed.

The Royal Ann cherry crop in the Sebastopol area, Sonoma County, will be about 1,200 tons this season.
